DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1-6, drawn to a method for initiating a connection between a first computer and a second computer, classified in class 709, subclass 220.

II. Claims 7-14, drawn to a device for identifying a number to an IP address connectable to an access router and an access router for connecting an IP-based network and a network where the location is indicated by another number than an IP-address.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the claims do not require a device that it is connectable to a free line data base and in that the retrieving means is adapted to also send a question to the free line data base about which lines that are free to use for the moment and in that the retrieving means also is adapted to receive an answer from the free line data base and in that the informing means is also adapted to inform the access router about which line that should be used for the connection nor do the claims require An access router that it comprises sending means from which a request is sent to the device about the IP-address and number correspondence and/or which line out from the access router that should be used for the connection. The subcombination has separate utility such as a device that it is connectable to a free line data base and in that the retrieving means is adapted to also send a question to the free line data base about which lines that are free to use for the moment and in that the retrieving means also is adapted to receive an answer from the free line data base and in that the informing means is also adapted to inform the access router about which line that should be used for the connection; and An access router that it comprises sending means from which a request is sent to the device about the IP-address and number correspondence and/or which line out from the access router that should be used for the connection.

If applicant elects group II, the following species requirement is applicable.

This application also contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Species 1, figures 1a, 1b, claims 7-10 drawn to a device for identifying a number to an IP address connectable to an access router

Species 2, figure 2a, claims 11-13, drawn to an access router for connecting an IP-based network and a network where the location is indicated by another number than an IP-address.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Claim 14 link(s) Species 1 and 2. The restriction requirement between the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim(s), claim 14. Upon the allowance of the linking claim(s), the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be entitled to examination in the instant application. Applicant(s) are advised that if any such claim(s) depending from or including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) is/are presented in a continuation or divisional application, the claims of the continuation or divisional application may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. In re Ziegler, 44 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
